

LORIS STAVRINIDES

Design Systems define architecture — not just interfaces

LS

Most teams focus on what the interface looks like.

Design Systems define how UI is structured — from tokens and themes to roles and components.

→

LS

The interface is only the visible layer.

Without structure,
products don't scale.

They fragment.

